CONGRESSIONAL HAPPENINGS IN WASHINGTON

By CLARENCE J. BROWN
Member of Congress,
Seventh Ohio District

Last week's most important happening in Washington, as far as Ohio is concerned, was President Roosevelt's veto of the Jenkins Bill to reimburse the State of Ohio in the sum of approximately one million three hundred and thirty-eight thousand dollars for Social Security funds withheld from the state in October 1938 because of a quarrel between the Davey state administration and Federal officials. The Jenkins Bill had previously passed both the House and the Senate by unanimous votes and the President's veto was unexpected. An attempt to pass the bill over the President's veto was made in the House, but a majority vote was cast in favor of overriding the veto. Under the Constitution a two-thirds vote of the entire Chamber is required to override. Open charges were made on the floor by Congressman Jenkins and other Ohioans that the veto came as a political action on the part of the President, and undoubtedly more will be heard regarding the matter in the coming national campaign. Every Republican in the House, and every Democrat from Ohio, voted to override the President's veto.

The drift in Congress for governmental economy continued unabated during the past week, with the House and Senate eliminating approximately thirty-five million dollars more from appropriations by the Administration. Further cuts are being made in committee hearings, it is reported, and all indications are to the effect that if Congress continues its present policy of reducing expenditures by cutting future appropriation bills, the leveling of new Federal taxes will not be necessary.

The life of the Committee for investigation of Un-American Activities, commonly known as the Dies Committee, was extended for one year by an overwhelming vote of the House last week. A small group of so-called liberals gave a determined and noisy opposition to the resolution, but when the roll was called the final vote stood 345 for and 21 against the continuance of the committee's investigation of subversive activities here in the United States. Veterans organizations, patriotic societies, and citizens generally, had let Members of Congress know that the "Home folks" were almost unanimous in their desire to see the work of the Committee continue.

Another grandiose plan of the New Deal has been abandoned in Congress as a result of recent announcements from high places that the so-called socialized medicine bill by Senator Wagner of New York, will not be pushed at this session of Congress. The bill, which had been estimated would cost nearly eight billion dollars, had the determined opposition of the medical fraternity and other public health leaders. It is understood that legislation will soon be introduced to provide for the erection of Federal hospitals in sections of the country now having an insufficient number of such health centers. However, it is doubtful that Congress will approve such a program at this time.

The Special House Committee investigating the National Labor Relations Board is having hearings each day, at which some rather startling testimony as to the method in which the Board has handled labor disputes, has been given. One of the five members of the investigating Committee is Honorable Harry N. Rountzoh, Congressman from the Third Ohio District. Judge Rountzoh's work, as a member of the committee, has been outstanding, and he is receiving nationwide commendation for the manner in which he has brought out important testimony at the committee hearings.

The Ways and Means Committee has been holding daily meetings on the bill to extend the power of the Secretary to enter into reciprocal trade agreements with various foreign countries, now scheduled to expire June 15th. The Administration is most active in the fight to continue the trade agreements program, while many manufacturers and farm leaders are just as determined that an end be brought to the present system. Among those appearing before the Committee during the past week were Louis J. Taber of Ohio, Master of the National Grange, and a number of Mrs. Helen Dadds Van Pelt, Xenia, former County Treasurer, suffered serious injuries Sunday night in an auto accident on Route 73, a mile east of Springfield.

She was accompanied by her husband, who was driving, when their car headed into a car partially parked on the highway. Van Pelt said he did not see the car as it had no lights. Joe Shinkle, 58, Lebanon, was the occupant of the parked car and was placed under arrest by highway police for operating an automobile without proper lights. He claimed his car had stalled and his wife had gone to get help. Mrs. Dadds was taken to a Middletown hospital where it was learned Monday that her injuries were not as serious as first thought.

MY GRANDPAP

By F. F. S.

My grandpap always says a new When winter gets the weather way And more comes out of the Of light air from the Bay Of wind and water from the plains A prosper's comfort and fast To block the roads and the train Just like the blizzard of the past.

My grandpap takes no winter nip Of cold from his person. He To sure rhymes in his lip Or that old war wound in his leg. My grandpap says the snowstorm And when snow comes to the Let's on hot like the winter's hot. (Not cold enough to keep a fly.)

Sometimes he holds the leaders too And opens bottles on his vest Till moon gets in a swirl snow. Bout cold a settlin' on the chest. But grandpap goes right on his way. Don't like to have folks say he cold. Bout him a warin' 'round or 'gay Or that he's gittin' kinder old.

Says he's a fool's making pork And aint a mindin' y' do die Then ups and gives me a quirk And winked at me upon the sly. Says it's all plain foolishness And won't hush up no more. Kip-tek-tek wild cats howl or less Without a heist'n' one more gill.

Says that folks is gittin' soft From what they was when he's a tike And used to sleep up in a loft As cold as in a north wind. And snow blown in across the bed Where he could look at the cracks And see the drifts up on the shed. He'd take his gun and chop'n ax And chop down several trees a day In temperatures of steel below. While holdin' packs of walrus at bay. I guess my grandpap likes to brag Like when he fit at Shesha Creek Bend And grabbed up that old rebel flag And showed it in a cannon's end. And how old Colonel Chester would say 'Is Corporal Jenkins in the crowd? Then forward marchin' with the day! At least that's what grandpap allowed.

One time grandpap took down real bad And layed for days like he's dead And mean list cried most awful sad. For lots of mean things that he said. The doctor came and wither Wicks And doped him up with brews and pills And let his feet with knee and bricks. When grandpap shook the bed with chills.

And neighbors come for miles around To see my grandpap breathe his last. For he layed without a sound And old doc says he's sinkin' fast. So all the wimmin' starts to sniff And whisper like bees in a hive. When grandpap rix up kinder stiff And yelled they're roasin' him alive! He, cussed and swore, and says "Now Son!"

Just steady me, and fetch my cane I'll send these carter on the run. Just like the reb at Bundy's Lane. The widder Wicks and old Doc Speers Grabbed their pills and herbs and tea.

CENSUS TAKER WILL ASK YOU QUESTIONS

April Fools Day will be no fooler for many for that is the time set to start the head count under the decennial census.

The feel feature of the census will prove something different than in former years for the New Deal has broadened the question base and each citizen, male and female, must answer from 34 to 250 questions, in total or in some cases in part.

It is proposed to limit the enumerators in town to two weeks and rural sections four weeks, according to advance reports.

You will no doubt be required to answer questions that will look foolish and also you may not feel that you will be giving a correct answer, but you must give some sort of a reasonable answer as required under the federal census law. All information taken will be confidential. It is said that some 250 questions must be answered by farmers, most of which is for statistical purposes. Farmers are supposed to have records where the answers can be secured to be reasonably correct.

The census taker will list each person whose usual place of residence on April 1, 1940 is in that household, including names of persons temporarily absent from the household and children under one year of age. Then they will note the person's relationship to the head of the household, such as wife, daughter, son, father, mother, "in-law" lodger, servant, hired hand, etc.

This will be followed by a personal description of each individual, such as sex, color or race, age, and marital status. Other information will be place of birth, citizenship, and education data.

Then the employment status will be listed for all persons 14 years of age or over. It will show whether each individual was employed, whether he or she was working for some branch of the government or private industry, the nature of the occupation, and amount of income. Income over $5,000 will not be noted.

Finally, every 14th person will be asked supplementary questions to bring the total number of queries to 50. These questions will be concerning the place of birth of father and mother, language spoken in home in earliest childhood, service in the Army or Navy, social security, and marital status of women; such as number of times married, age at first marriage, and number of children ever born. Various codes have been devised for the enumerator to list information on his large blanks. The enumerator will be trained in the use of these codes in order to simplify the taking of the census.

Republican Committee Makes Endorsement For Election Board

The Republican Executive Committee met last Thursday evening in Xenia, when endorsement was given Mayor Lowell Foss of Yellow Springs as a member of the County Board of Elections on the Republican side, these being four members of the board, two from each political party. Mr. Foss will succeed Darrell Chase, Oakes, who has served two terms. The new appointment will be made by the Secretary of State in March.

The committee also recommended the election of Attorney W. B. McCullister, Jr., as clerk of the board, the clerk under the law must be of the same political party as the secretary of state. This means the chairman of the board must be a Democrat.

Charles Bales is the present Democratic clerk and Meryl Jones is a Democratic member of the board whose term expires. The appointments will be made by Secretary of State Earl Griffith March 1st.

GOLDEN RULE CIRCLE ENTERTAINED FRIDAY NIGHT

The members of the Golden Rule Circle of the Methodist Church entertained the Men's Bible Class at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hartman last Friday evening.

After a bountiful covered dish dinner had been enjoyed, the regular monthly meeting was conducted, with the president, Mrs. C. E. Masters, presiding.

Mrs. George Hamman had charge of the devotion which consisted of group singing of familiar hymns, prayer, and a splendid paper by Mrs. Hamman entitled, "My New Year and Yours."

A short business session was then held and reports from various committees were given. After the business meeting, the entertainment committee gave a very fine program. Mrs. Markle and Mrs. Johnson led in the group singing of a number of our S. S. songs which were enjoyed by all. Mrs. Markle then sang a solo, entitled: "The Little Red Bush."

Mrs. Richards gave a reading, "Buying A Hat," which was very cleverly acted out by Mrs. Masters. Several contests were also enjoyed, among them being a planting contest and a True and False list of statements.

Rev. Markle gave a sketch, "Poor Little Match Girl," in which he took the parts of all three characters in a very able and entertaining manner. The president of the Men's Bible class, Mr. Masters, gave a speech in which he expressed the appreciation of his class for the very pleasant evening which the ladies had provided for them.

WATER MAIN BURSTS WEST XENIA AVE.

Zero weather did considerable damage to water lines about town, in fact the past ten days have been the coldest since the system was opened in 1939.

About midnight Saturday it was discovered the water pressure was diminishing fast and by Sunday morning it was hard to find water anywhere in town. J. Lloyd Condon, and F. E. Harper, superintendent, the former a member of the Board of Public Affairs, worked all night to remedy the trouble. A main on West Xenia ave. had frozen and burst.

Both worked all day Sunday to replenish the water supply and these pumps were pumping steadily, but only a part of the town had even a light water pressure early Monday morning.

Scores of patrons have frozen pipes and every effort has been put forth to restore the water service. Patrons were warned of a water shortage from the pumps on Sunday due to freezing of fire protection.

It will take several days to restore the water supply and consumers are urged to use caution that fire protection will be possible should there be a fire. It will be several days before the water pipes to residences will all be thawed out according to officials.

County Appropriation Set At $201,968

The Greene county commissioners prepared and approved a budget for the present year at $201,968. The county entered the year with a balance of $7,388.61 unappropriated surplus for emergency purposes.

The commissioners appropriated $256,389 for the road fund, based upon expected revenue from general taxes and motor vehicle license fees, and $4,950 for the dog and animal fund, created by receipts from the sale of dog tags.

The general fund appropriation for 1940 governmental purposes shows an increase over last year, recorders' commissions showing $127,000; was appropriated in two installments, $54,855.80 for the first quarter and $137,037.50 for the last nine months of 1939.

In recent years it had been customary to make a temporary appropriation for the first three months, owing to the uncertainty over probable income from taxation sources.

Dwelling Burned At Wilberforce

Fire burned away the roof and gutted the interior of a two-story frame residence owned by Miss Jane Lee at Wilberforce about 10 o'clock Monday morning. Origin of the blaze was not immediately determined and the damage was unestimated.

Part of the household furnishings were saved. Volunteering as firefighters, Wilberforce University students subdued the flames before the residence was completely destroyed. The frame work was left standing. Miss Lee, employed in Dayton as a school teacher, and her mother, Mrs. Mary Lee, occupy the house, which at one time was owned by the late Bishop James A. Shorter of Wilberforce and is located directly opposite Galloway Hall.

Valuation of real estate and utility holdings in Greenup County is listed at $23,091,233 for 1939, an increase of $204,700 over the 1938 tax duplicate, County Auditor J. J. Currett announced Tuesday. The addition of $485,000 worth of new buildings and improvements to the duplicate was the largest in the last decade. The value of utility holdings in the county increased a $27,000 increase. Intergovernmental companies and new phone line developments accounted for the remainder of the increase.

HONORABLE HARRY SHOULD GET BLUE RIBBON

Harry Bridges, Australian born agitator, CIO Communist labor leader on the west coast, who won a victory when feeble attempt was made to deport him following charges in connection with labor union trouble. His first arm of support has been a New Deal cabinet member, Secretary Perkins. The Dies Committee investigating un-American activities had all the evidence necessary to deport the labor leader but with the female labor department head and the White House, the verdict went to the Communist labor leader whose gang had succeeded heavily to the Roosevelt campaign fund. Bridges now asks for American citizenship to keep the government in the future from deporting him. He will get it right or wrong, and in haste if Sister Perkins has anything to do with it. To get citizenship papers Bridges must swear to support the constitution, the very thing every Communist is sworn to destroy before he can become affiliated with that party. Roosevelt or Perkins dare not oppose citizenship papers for the Australian Communist.

WEBSTER WAS BORAH'S IDEAL

It is revealed that the late Senator Borah had Daniel Webster as his ideal. He could hardly have picked a better one. The problems which the earlier statesmen faced were not exactly those which came to the Idahoan, but they were similar. For the ideal of Webster was "liberty and Union, one and inseparable, now and forever," and Mr. Borah had the same ideal. Webster was always opposed to entangling foreign alliances and to mixing in with the quarrels of other nations. He believed in this great nation as an entity which must be preserved, in keeping peace with the rest of the world, and in minding our own business. That, too, was the Borah creed. The newer days naturally demand approaches to newer problems, but he who takes as his pattern any truly great man of the past is sure to go higher and toward a better success than they who follow ultramodernism or take counsel from untied philosophies, and pay heed to new-hatched, unfledged advisers—Ohio State Journal.

THE VILLAGE MOVEMENT IN NEW YORK STATE

Back in the little town of Scarsdale, New York, a movement was recently started which is typically in the American tradition. It is known as "The Village Movement," and is sponsored by a group of representative citizens of the community. Its purpose is to restore representative government and to let business expand and make more jobs. Its ten objectives include: To uphold the Constitutional division of power of the Federal government; to restore to the Federal government simplicity of form and economy of operation; to resist government encroachment upon legitimate business; to encourage agriculture and industry, and aid those in need through local machinery; to support labor in its right to work and bargain collectively; to foster all social improvements of reasonable character which the country can pay for, and to resist the coercive tactics of all pressure groups. The underlying purpose of this movement is obvious—to impress the people and the local community with the traditions of the nation's founders. Few of us realize how far we have strayed from the principle of local self-rule. The independence and rights of local government have been lost little by little, almost without notice. And the result has been to create a gigantic and incredibly costly Federal bureaucracy which is inevitably opposed to the perpetuation of true democracy. What these Scarsdale people have done, should be emulated on the widest possible scale by thousands of other communities of America. If we are to maintain democracy and sound and solvent government there must be a resurgence of local responsibility, local independence, local effort to serve the industries, farmers and working people of the nation. Centralized government is the enemy of true representative government. And the Village Movement seems to be one possible cure for a trend which has gone farther than most of us know in saddling this country with the principles of totalitarianism.

MIAMISBURG GETS FINE INDUSTRY

Announcement is made this week that Miamisburg, Montgomery county, a thriving town near Dayton, has just been assured another new factory with a weekly payroll of more than $4,000 to take a tobacco warehouse and factory that has been vacant. The company is moving from California and will bring fifteen key employees and their families. The other labor will be drawn from the community. This is a fine feature for any town but compliment must go first to a live business men's organization that did not stand around penny-wise and let some other town get the prize. The building had no suitable heating plant and the business men raised $3,500 to install a modern heating plant. Net result is another factory with a good sized payroll; more labor for the laboring classes; more business for the business men. A better feeling in the community that progress is being made to the benefit of all lines of business. Few towns are handed new industries free gratis. You have to meet competition and you must expect some sacrifice in this age where competition must be met in almost every direction if you are to get any place. There are other industries seeking new locations how hard do you want to work and how much sacrifice will you make to bring to your doors an institution such as will open early in March in Miamisburg?

HERALD WANT AND SALE ADS PAY

We read a statement a few days ago which indicates the new Democratic mayor down in Franklin, Warren Co., is not in full accord with all New Deal business methods. Franklin has had heaps of the Santa Claus money from Washington but when the WPA tore up the town's main drag for sewers and left the street in an almost impassable condition for these winter months and no money in sight to fix the brick street and other side streets, then even a Democratic mayor can express himself not keeping in mind the shortness of his party administration down in Washington. Jamestown found out that "all that glitters is not gold" and now we hear that Yellow Springs has a collection of bills amounting to $2,000 in connection with a sewer WPA project and no funds in sight to complete what Santa Claus started.

Farmers do not have to go to "Farm Week" to get the latest. A "New Deal" Washington board has thought up something new for the farmer. The United States Forest Service now proposes that congress legislate to give this board absolute control of lumber for a new fence. This New Deal owner might want fire wood or lumber for a new fence. This New Deal picture that the timber resources are economically so important that we must have control of the cutting of every tree. This would mean appointment of some five or six thousand deserving Democrats as inspectors. To bring the suggestion down to home folks imagine a New Deal inspector telling a New Deal farmer that he cannot cut a tree to get lumber or posts for a new fence. Why not have a license to cut hay or weeds? Anyway it might be a good thing to require a license to cut firewood—people would know more just what the New Deal was all about.

How many more income taxpayers will be in the list this year than last? There will be many more, probably three hundred more in this county alone, as school teachers and all brands of public officials will be in the list under the new law. The minimum is $1,000 for single persons and $2,500 for married persons. We also read that there are few deductions permitted either teachers or public officials as the department rules neither can deduct traveling expense going from home to wherever they have employment.

New York City is one of the few cities that have a city sales tax, 2 per cent on each dollar at sale price. A Supreme Court decision Monday makes it mandatory for merchants in that city to collect this 2 per cent state. The majority decision was tax on all orders—even going out of written by a recent Roosevelt appointee. With state and city sales taxes the Democrats are certainly going to limit to keep as many on the public pay rolls as possible regardless of the cost to consumer and taxpayers.

Cong. Clarence J. Brown in a speech in Congress makes some comparisons in discussing the Hull-Roosevelt trade-treaties that are disturbing all kinds of business and helping to hold down farm prices. In 1939 our exports under these agreements was $175,327,000 less than in 1938. Our imports made possible by New Deal generosity is shown as follows: Imports, $102,568,000 greater for 1939 than in 1938. These two items amount to more than $377,000,000 and cover only agricultural products. This shows the Roosevelt-Hull policy of aiding foreign agriculture at the expense of the American farmer. American labor suffers as much or more from these trade agreements than the American farmer due to low wage scales abroad.

At the CIO annual convention in Columbus John L. Lewis took his sting at the New Deal and warned that labor had been double-crossed. It is unusual for a New Dealer to turn so quick as Lewis has done to become a critic of an administration he and his union followers helped finance as well as vote for some seven years ago or more. Weeks ago Lewis tried to brand Vice President Garner but he could not hold him down; a short time ago Lewis tied the can to Paul McNutt, head of the social security setup and we hear now that Roosevelt-vetoed the Ohio old age pension claim as a slap at McNutt for promising this state payment. Lewis later takes a rap at Roosevelt and says he cannot be elected for a third term. Monday we read where the New Deal is placing the heat on McNutt for becoming over-active as a presidential possibility. The New Deal has sicked income tax snoopers after McNutt. Sen. Wheeler, D., Mont., seems to have the inside track with Lewis for president.

The recent sold map that held us bound for two or more weeks brought out an unusual statement from a well known lady one day last week. First she said she was positive that every time she looked at the weather forecast she talked about the Republican War and later the winter storm during the Civil War. Then came the World War back in 1918-1919 and now European countries are having successive cold during the present war while we are supposed to have peace. Why cold weather and war go hand in hand brought out an interesting question.

The A. F. of L. orders the expulsion of the Typographical Union from the organization unless certain dues are paid. There are 80,000 members of the type union, one of the most conservative unions in the country and one that has not become obnoxious in any way. The CIO tried to win the printers away but failed. Wm. Green to get a campaign fund to fight CIO ordered an assessment of one cent per member per month on all A. F. of L. unions. The printers refused to pay. The union is strong enough to go its own way without either the aid of Green or Lewis.

Gov. John W. Bricker comes out in a strong statement of his support of Senator Robert A. Taft, Ohio favorite son for the presidential nomination. Mayor Burton, Cleveland, announces as a candidate at the primary for the Senatorial nomination on the Republican ticket.

Franklin county Democrats urge Chairman Heer, head of a large printing firm, as a candidate for governor at the Democratic primary. At a recent meeting of Young Democrats in Columbus the followers of Jefferson dodged the Roosevelt third term issue.

Each day the CIO and miners meet in Columbus there is a crack at the New Deal in some form or another. This is disturbing to Ohio Democrats and a well known leader stated last week that he would not be surprised to see Ohio go Republican this year by 250,000, in view of the internal tangle Democrats find themselves. He says Donahay is the only candidate that can give the ticket strength.

Cedarville Defeats Silvercreek
Cedarville High School basketball players bounced right back into the winning column, Friday, January 26, when they defeated Silvercreek in a furiously played league game on the home floor by a score of 30-29. Silvercreek led our boys by a small margin through the entire first three quarters, and then Cedarville battled gamely during the last quarter to snatch the verdict. Eleven points gained Brewer the scoring honors for the evening. After Bryan had conquered mighty Spring Valley, Saturday night, Cedarville moved into a first place tie with the latter team in the county league standings. This makes the game at Spring Valley this Friday more crucial than ever, for it may decide the league race, not to mention numerous other basketball activities it may affect. Cedarville's reserves evened their season's record at four wins and four losses by trouncing Silvercreek's seconds, 32-32. White, with twelve points, led the scoring.

Ag News

Garbo sings, Garbo dances, and Garbo laughs in her first picture in two years and her first venture into sophisticated modern romantic comedy. The picture is "Ninotchka," which opens this Thursday at the State Theater, Springfield, Ohio.

Garbo, teamed with Melvyn Douglas, plays a stern Soviet commissar sent to Paris by the government to sell a noblewoman's confiscated jewels. The noblewoman and a French count fight the deal in Paris. The count falls in love. The noblewoman marries the count. The count returns to Russia but the count maneuvers to leave. The noblewoman and the count are married.

The story abounds in comedy and Garbo learned a hundred per cent more of any of her previous pictures for her first ultra-modern picture. It had long been her ambition to play in this type of story.

In comparison Seattle, Wash., stood at 50 degrees the same day.

pottery manufacturers from Eastern Ohio. Inasmuch as the Administration has a heavy majority in the Ways and Means Committee, it seems certain that the bill will be reported out for action thereon by the full Congress.

Domestic repercussions, as a result of the Administration Neutrality Bill passed at the special session of Congress last Autumn, are being heard quite regularly these days. The latest affects the cigarette tobacco producing states, whose representatives in Congress all voted to enact the measure. A few days ago Great Britain announced that all British tobacco needs would be filled from Turkey. Great Britain has been buying an average of one hundred million dollars worth of cigarette tobacco a year from the United States, mostly from the states of Maryland, Virginia and North Carolina. Conserving her cash to purchase munitions and airplanes in the United States, Great Britain will take her tobacco from Turkey in part payment of interest and principal on British loans recently made Turkey for diplomatic and military reasons.

Dairymen Get $181,682 For Milk

Greene County dairymen during 1939 sold a total of 9,995,428 pounds of milk costing $181,682, to Borden's Red Wing Dairy Company of Xenia, Borden's Dairy Products Company of Dayton, and Springfield Dairy Company, the companies report.

This was a slight decrease from purchases during 1938—the year of peak production—when the companies' receipts from the county totalled 10,847,818 pounds, valued at $194,285.

Approximately 250 Greene County farms are supplying the companies with milk. In addition, there are many farms producing cream whose sales are included in the Springfield branch's total 1939 purchases of 641,387 pounds of butter-fat, costing $156,746.

INCIDENTS

By Charles George Kunkle

One of the railroad comes the first story of a railway locomotive engineer during a good turn. Years ago he may have had Ray Scott training. From his cab he surveyed the right-of-way closely, as he long thought moved northward through the yellow steam. It was some temperature. Darkness was approaching. He saw a sheep asleep helpless in a woven wire fence. One swift glance revealed terrible suffering. It would result in death from the cold unless relief came. He could not stop the train.

It was eleven miles to the station. Here he reported the sheep's plight to the ticket agent who in turn relayed the report to the sheriff's office. An alert deputy took the message. The next moment he was in his car speeding toward the sheep. Thirty-five minutes after the freight passed, the deputy released the animal, reporting the act to the owner. The farmer was grateful. The deputy performed an act of kindness. The engineer had done a good turn.

It was an incident on the railroad's trip. He was working in the line of duty. To operate his locomotive successfully was all that was required of him then. That in considered a man-sized job. To observe the misfortune of a mere sheep was not required of him. He might have passed it up. His next check would have been no less. He however had a heart.

"THE EARL OF CHICAGO"

Given a story that defies all Hollywood formula, Robert Montgomery scores a spectacular success in the most unusual and exciting motion picture of the year, "The Earl of Chicago," which opens this Saturday with a preview Friday night at the Majestic Theater, Springfield, Ohio.

The film is based on a situation as unique, dramatic, humorous and surprising as any ever brought to the screen, the story of Sully Kilmount, a Chicago gangster, who becomes an English Earl by inheritance.

Temperance Notes

What price a glass of liquor? Insurance experts have estimated that every glass reduces the expectancy of life by twenty-five minutes.

"The annual crime bill of the nation is estimated at fifteen billions of dollars, ten dollars per month for each man, woman and child. Translating this deplorable situation into dollars the Committee is a factor in 40 per cent of the criminal cases investigated (exclusive of drunkennes); a first cause in 81 per cent, and the sole cause in about 16 per cent."

Dr. Loren M. Edwards, a prominent Methodist clergyman and author says: "There are people today, some high in position, who picture as pessimistic, and think the way to handle this liquor question is to wait until it becomes so vicious and vile that there will be a storm that will sweep through the land like a beam of destruction. Such a policy might be wise except for our boys and girls. While we might conceivably wait for a Prohibition rebound, what are we going to do with the rising generation of youth? For we cannot wait where youth is involved..."

A driver does not have to be drunk to be dangerous. With only a couple of drinks aboard, and still so confidently sober that he could walk a chalk line, pronounce "truly rural" without twisting his tongue, or insert a key in a keyhole without fumbling, he has lost one-third of his ability to judge the speed and distance of approaching cars, he sees less distinctly what is before him, he is measurably slower and less accurate in his muscular responses with steering wheel and brake to what he does see, and he drives faster. All of which is a strictly scientific sermon on the text: If you drink (even a little) don't drive; if you drive don't drink—Christian Century.

Problem 4: In what ways does our Lord expect Christians to be different from their non-Christian neighbors? Why can they be expected to hold life more sacred? 2 Cor.

Man may follow a thousand delusive meteors, but the only true light is the light of God's countenance.—F. W. Farrar.

UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for February 4

HOLDING LIFE SACRED

LESSON TEXT—Galatians 1:17-21; 1 Corinthians 9:19, 22, 23; Colossians 3:1-4.
GOLDEN TEXT—Ye are bought with a price; therefore glorify God in your body.—1 Corinthians 6:19.

Moral action and right living can only be assured on the basis of right thinking. If our principles are right, our action will be sure and our life will be steady. Fundamental in our consideration of temperance living is a right understanding of life itself. Where did we come from? Whom do we serve? What are the forces in life? To whom do we belong? If he gets these matters straight, any honest man will come out right in his life decisions.

I. Man Was Created in the Image of God (Gen. 1:27-31). "God created man"—so says Scripture, and all the forces of intellect and emotion have not been able to break down that simple statement. The creation story of Genesis stands and will stand. Let no critic of God's Word, no spinner of human philosophies, however plausible, take that assurance from you.

The important point for our lesson is the fact that God created man in His own image; in other words, made him an intelligent, moral and spiritual being. It takes a very foolish person indeed to believe the theory (which, by the way, has never been proved) that man has evolved from some elementary substance by way of the animal into his present high estate. Man came from the hand of God ready to take dominion over the earth (Gen. 1:28-30), able to name all the animals (Gen. 2:19, 20), and above all, capable of fellowship with God. Little wonder that God declared His creation with man in its crown to be "very good" (1:31).

Remember that you are God's creation and that you bear His likeness and you will have a high regard for your life. You will guard it, develop it, and above all you will commit it in glad surrender to God through Jesus Christ.

II. The Believer Is Indwelt by the Holy Spirit (1 Cor. 6:19, 20). Redemption at the great price of Jesus' blood not only makes the believer belong to God (v. 20), but also makes his body the temple of the Holy Spirit. When the child of God grasps that truth, his attitude toward his body and toward his life which it bears is revolutionized. Since the third person of the blessed Trinity dwells in me, I will not abuse, neglect, or misuse my body. I will not take it to places where the indwelling Spirit would not go. I will not use it or any of its members to do anything which does not honor God. On the other hand, I will yield it without delay and without reservation to the Holy Spirit and count on Him to empower and use it for God's glory.

The writer wishes to bear testimony that when this truth laid hold of him, even years after he was converted, it changed his whole life. It can do the same for every Christian who reads these lines. And what about the unbeliever? He can accept Christ right now and at once the Holy Spirit will indwell him too. Why not?

III. The Believer Should Live a Separated Life (1 Cor. 6:16-7:1). We have fallen upon evil days when it seems to be assumed by Christian people that only certain individuals in the Church are called to a life of separation from worldlyness. Men seem to say, "The preacher? Of course! The deacon? Oh, yes! The elders? Yes! The trustees? Well, not necessarily, Church members? Well, some do and some don't." It is felt that it is a matter of choice or of disposition, and that the failure to live such a separated life is really no reflection on one's spirituality.

That erroneous view must have come directly from the devil himself. The Christian man or woman, will you listen to a man who has been called to a life of separation from worldlyness? Read again II Corinthians 6:16, 17. Note the blessed promise in verse 18, and then heed the admonition in 7:1. "Dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God." As Christians, our response to such an admonition should be immediate and complete.

The command and the invitation are to you, Christian friend. If you will respond, there will be a revival in your own heart, and if all those who read these lines will respond to God's invitation and admonition, there will be a revival in thousands of churches all over America this week. Why not?

Friends—You cannot keep your friends unless you learn to keep your temper. And if you wish others to enjoy your company you must see that you are a cheerful companion.
